Hampton Roads Partnership (HRP) wishes to create a safe forum in which to exchange ideas and disseminate information. HRP and its partners demand a mutual respect for privacy, strict confidentiality of proprietary information, and copyright protection.
HRP is not responsible for the content or privacy practices of non- HRP websites to which we may link. By using this site or any other HRP website, you agree to the terms of the Hampton Roads Partnership Privacy Policy. If you do not agree to these terms, please do not use this or any HRP site.
We are committed to protecting your privacy. We use the information we collect on the site to enhance the overall experience of our site visitors. We do not sell, trade, or rent your personal information to others.

Our promise to you:
HRP will not obtain personally identifying information about you when you visit its websites, unless you affirmatively choose to provide such information.
When you visit our site, we automatically collect and store only the following information about you, none of which is personally identifiable such as the domain from which you access our site and the day, month, and year you access our site.
We use this information to calculate the number of visitors to the different sections of our site, and to help us make our site more useful to future visitors. We do not sell or transfer to third parties any of the information collected automatically from every visitor.
What about "cookies"?
A cookie is a piece of date stored on the user's hard drive containing information about the user which will allow them to access this membership-only portion of the site. Cookies are not required of visitors to our website. Cookies are used to allow access to the administrative portion of the Market Makers section of our site to allow authorized investors access to update their company or executive profiles.
How secure is my information?
HRP is fully committed to data security. To prevent unauthorized access, maintain data accuracy, and ensure the appropriate use of information, we have put in place physical, electronic, and/or managerial procedures to safeguard and secure the information you provide to us online.
How will my email address be used?
HRP sends regular communication about announcements, upcoming events, public policy issues and economic development news to investors, partners, elected officials and interested parties
How do I opt out of email communication?
You can decline to receive email notifications. We recognize the importance of providing you with choices. At any time, you may ask that these communications be discontinued by simply replying to the email and informing us of your preferences. All email communication that you receive from HRP will tell you how to decline further email communication. If you continue to receive email communications after you have unsubscribed, please contact us directly at Contact@HRP.org or call (757) 625-4696 and tell us which email communication you do not wish to receive.
Does HRP sell its mailing list?
No. HRP will occasionally share mailing lists with partner organizations for joint initiatives we feel would have value to our partners and investors.

Can I download or forward information from HRP's websites to others? Please see HRP's Creative Commons Policy for more information.
